Ivo Ivanovski:Hello from MAKEDONIJA
Ivo Ivanovski:it is 4:15pm here wolfgang:We have now nearly 150 attendees. This is a lot for such a webinar.

Carlos Raul:Net Mundial as a task force? Or Net Mundial as a new organization?

Carlos Raul:not clear at all

William Drake:a platform

Carlos Raul:define platform

Carlos Raul:as compared to I*

William Drake:place where people can do projects and partner

Annie Magaña:does the initiative has legal force ?

Carlos Raul:part of I* or not?

wolfgang:A platform is a form which is plat :-))

Carlos Raul:plat Dutsch

Carlos Raul:a platform initiative nigel hickson:Here with young Pablo...

Pablo Hinojosa / YJ Park:The Busan team!

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:actions means task force?

Carlos Raul:road map to action

Carlos Raul:so far so good

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:virtual platform

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:Fadi said

Carlos Raul:energizing virtual platform

Carlos Raul:all inclusive (beyond i*)

Carlos Raul:ok

Flavio Kenji Yanai:collaborative crowdsourcing

Carlos Raul:distributed energizing virtual platform

Carlos Raul:like a network of gas stations

Flavio Kenji Yanai:s/crowdsourcing/Crowdsourcing

William Drake:Carlos have you had a lot of coffee today? :-)

Carlos Raul:wow

Carlos Raul:just had breakfast

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:Flavio, here is not irc

Carlos Raul:just listening to the oracle

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:to substitute using commands

Flavio Kenji Yanai:sorry ! 8-)

Ian Peter:mother of all bottom up models

Carlos Raul:how things are going to be organized

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:Bottom up? Really?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:Is it just a new crowdsourcing web-based platform?

Flavio Kenji Yanai:This sounds great !

Sonigitu Ekpe:The sound is not smooth can the technical team check it up?

Maritza Aguero:When is going to be launch the platform?

Flavio Kenji Yanai:@IGR-ZHU , it seems

Carlos Raul:today

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:Flavio, are you involved in the platform?

Sonigitu Ekpe:@Maritza Who is going to launch the platform?

Lorenzo:~ bad audio reception :(

CHINA IGR-ZHU:I see crowdsourcing..so who is gonna operate the platform?

Sonigitu Ekpe:How do we from under-developed Countries understand this complexity?

Maritza Aguero:G´question @Sonigitu!

Carlos Raul:you need a map

CHINA IGR-ZHU:Focus on non-technical users..

c:layers stacked upside down

Jahangir Hossain:1+ Sonigitu

c:non-tech = govt

CHINA IGR-ZHU:haha

Sonigitu Ekpe:It is very important for us to under stand the role of stakeholders.

Deirdre Williams:and WHO the stakeholders are - all of us? as individuals?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:I figure out it is just a new website..

Maritza Aguero:sorry, □who´s speaking?

Sonigitu Ekpe:@Deirde, Govt, Technical, Academic,Civil Society, Bussiness and Users.

DiegoCanabarro:Now: @WEF's Richard Samans discusses role of the Forum in supporting the #NETmundial Initiative

<http://bit.ly/10SLaAu>

Maritza Aguero:Thanx @Diego

DiegoCanabarro:ur welcome

Deirdre Williams:@Sonigitu thanks :-)

Robin Gross:2 from civil society and 4 from business? This is WEF's idea of bottom-up multistakeholderism?

DiegoCanabarro:robin, they are equally distributed c:the mother of top-down centralized bottom...

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:just numbering

DiegoCanabarro:(1), (2), means for order.

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:First, second...

Robin Gross:was this coordination council decided in a bottom up manner?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:I am wondering if I* group is a formal organization?

Robin Gross:Off to a top-down start

Sonigitu Ekpe:@China, this is a critical issue!

CHINA IGR-ZHU:Who is taking the seat?

Delia:+1 CHINA IGR-ZHU

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:Richard Samans

Robin Gross:simply using the word "bottom up" does not make it so. This has been decided already in a top down manner to the disadvantage of civil society.

Jeremy Malcolm:This has changed very little from August, they have not taken our concerns into account

Ian Peter:who chooses reps for each group

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:completely agree Robin!

Robin Gross:probably the same people who decided civil society gets 2 and business gets 4 reps on the council.

Delia:who to choose the members of evry part of council?

DiegoCanabarro:Robin, again: those numbers were just for ORDERING. They get exactly the same number of sit.s

Sonigitu Ekpe:As an individual can I nominate myself?

DiegoCanabarro:.)

Deirdre Williams:i think this is a very effective mechanism called divide and rule

Sonigitu Ekpe:Please check audio.

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:it's a incredible case of Bottom up come upside down Flavio Kenji Yanai:how it will be the nominee process ?

wolfgang:@Robin: My reading is that Civil Society gets five seats and business gets also five seats, one rep from each region.

Robin Gross:ok, Wolfgang. who decides who the five are?

Jeremy Malcolm:Sonigitu, others: there is a civil society coordination group which will make nominations if there is a rough consensus not to boycott the process

William Drake:As he's said, each group selects its reps

Sivasubramanian M:@Wolfgang If Civil Society gets five seats, and Business gets five seats, who gets to decide on the names to be nominated for Civil Society and who nominats for business/

Jahangir Hossain:How NETmudial can help to build capacity of developing country participation in internet governance ERA?

Marilia Maciel:One of the issues with the selection process of NM committees seemed to be the need to increase transparency on selection process of stakeholder representatives. we need clear procedure for that.

wolfgang:@Siva: Probably the CS coordination group and ICC Basics

Kieren McCarthy:Question: if this is an open resource whose main purpose is to help people connect with one another, why is there a need for a Council at all?

Sonigitu Ekpe:Who nominates for individual users?

Robin Gross:Isn't ICC Basis mainly US based?

wolfgang:ICC is based in Paris

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:platform is not up yet?

Bruno do Amaral:Would discussions regarding net neutrality be suitable on this Initiative?

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:up.

Rahul Sharma:How is the work here going to feed into ICG?

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:up! wolf at the top

Nathalia Sautchuk - NIC.br/Brazil:@Caribe now it is up

Robin Gross:There is a civil society coordination committee to make recommendations for civil society.

Sivasubramanian M:@Wolfgang If there are going to be central bodies that would forward the nominations, (all nominations, a short list or just five names?) then this process at stakeholder level has to be coordinated by persons who are seasoned and fair

Robin Gross:It wouldn't be appropriate for others, like Fadi to make that determination Despoina Sareidaki:What will be the output of the Council? Are there going to be regular meetings and reports?

Kieren McCarthy:How much money have the different organizations committed to this project?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:How does the council work? They meet at what frequency? What decisions do they make?

Martha Giraldo:How can we have the copy of the presentation?

Carlos Raul:3 times a year

Sonigitu Ekpe:I think there is need for awareness creation among under developed countries for more participation.

Zaki Dajani:If this Netmundial aims at being a multistakeholder initiative, how can you preserve each stakeholder's interest, especially public VS private?

Carlos Raul:paralle to ICANN meetings i guess

Philip Corwin:Other than "action", what does this do that IGF isn't already doing?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:so they meet on every ICANN meeting?

Sonigitu Ekpe:We do have many oportuned yet do not download knowledge to the bottom.

Robin Gross:The NetMundial Principles call for stakeholders to decide their own representatives. But Fadi says he will be making that decision for civil society and others. That is a big problem.

Stephanie Perrin:Please ask the chairs to answer Phil Corwin's queston.

wolfgang:@Philipp: It supports the IGF and adds concrete projects. There is need to duplicate discussion, but we have to ove to more outcome. Here NMI and IGF can work hand in hand.

Sonigitu Ekpe:Global decision?

Rahul Sharma:What are the drivers behind creation of this? And what are the issues we are trying to solve?

wolfgang:Sorry: There is NO need to duplicate discussions

CHINA IGR-ZHU:+1

Delia:+1

Jahangir Hossain:Developing countries make up a majority of the membership of many international organizations involved in the governance of sustainable development. This is also the case if a broad view is taken of Internet governance, so that it is not limited to the technical and managerial bodies directly involved in Internet governance, but also includes inter-governmental and international organizations whose activities have important direct and indirect influences on the development and use of the Internet.So which organization take the initiative to build up capacity of developing countries ?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:How does the coordination concil deal with the crowdsourcing platform? It is still not clear that how the platform is going to work under the guidance of the coordination concil..

Ergys Ramaj 2:Please use the Q & A pod for questions

CHINA IGR-ZHU:I agree with the developing country comment

Kieren McCarthy:Re: the civil society coordination group - who is on it - when does it meet - how does it makes decisions?

Alan Greenberg:That might work if there were exactly 5 groups within civil society. It is not that homogeneous.

Delia:how to make sure that every part of coucil has the appropriate numeber of representatives?

Sivasubramanian M:Why not have a Nomcom like universal process, wherein a candidate does not require the weight of a stakeholder coordinating body thrown behind his candidature

Delia:who decied the component?

Rahul Sharma:My questions aren't been answered at all!

Robin Gross:Robin Gross: The Netmundial Principles call for civil society to decide their own representatives. It is not appropriate for us to have to make arguments and convince Fadi & WEF to select our nominations to the council. This will be a very big problem for civil society going forward if this is not immediately fixed.

Alan Greenberg:Questions need to be asked at box on left Nicolas:What about the mapping exercise undertaken already in the CSTD WG on enhanced cooperation?

Rahul Sharma:If we need more than 1 multistakholder platform for an issue like IG, it 1) undermines existing multistakeholder platform and their effectiveness and 2) poses serious questions on multistakeholder model itself

Robin Gross:"everything will be done bottom up" - says the guy who will make the decisions for who represents civil society

Delia:i noticed the emphasis is to figure out solutions, but i am really doubt thatt if focusing issues

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:Disappointed with the "colaborative" of the platform, I really expected more, just to engage the bottom. Fail...

wolfgang:The mapping project seems to me is the main project and has to lead to something like the proposed IG Clearing House we discussed in Istanbul. The UBCSTD has done already some groundwork, but it has to go further and NMI is a great opportunitx to move from discussions to actions.

Delia:i noticed the emphasis is to figure out solutions, but i am really doubt thattif hot issues on IGF have not been sovled, how to ensure NETmundial initiative can do that ?

Gonzalo Lopez-Barajas:What will be the role of the WEF organization to be spin-off from Net Mundial Initiative vs. the original NMI?

Jeremy Malcolm:Questions for the panelists don't go here, they go in the Q&A section on the left Rahul Sharma:FADI mentioned about taking IGF discussions into account, why are discussion at ITU pleni-potentiary not considered?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:They are just saying bottom-up..But the only solid botom-up component is just open up comment website on IG issues ,really..I dont know how can it help..

Marilia Maciel:An extensive mapping was conducted under the enhanced cooperation WG in CSTD. Efforts should be built upon that.

Sonigitu Ekpe:Lets see the Internet as a new Global Governance platform....

c.a.:That was the useful result coming out of the CSTD WGEC

Delia:actually , it seems an old model

Sonigitu Ekpe:If so there is need for global legal status!

Delia:with new clothes

Kieren McCarthy:If this initiative is specifically for non-technical functions, then why is ICANN involved at all, let alone having a "permanent seat"?

Sonigitu Ekpe:+ 1 @Delina wolfgang:@Marilia: An advanced version of the outcome from the Correspondence Group will be presented end of November at the Interesessioal CSTD meeting. NMI can based on this and to translate the CSTD mapping into a more concrete clearinghouse project. Working hand in hand is the way forward. Not to duplicate or compete among various processes. Linking the dots, as th UNESCO man said :-)))

Sonigitu Ekpe:Solutions available to whom?

Joao Carlos Caribe - Brazil:more1 @Delia

Marilia Maciel:@Wolfgang, good to know. Thanks. Keep us posted about that document.

c.a.:Have you all noticed there is a separate Q&A window for sending questions?

RenataAquinoRibeiro>Hello everyone Will there be contributions previously to the event for this year too?

Robin Gross:Follow Up Q: So the value of this initiative is a website for posting info on a topic, but that is all?

CHINA IGR-ZHU:yes, its just a new website and new meetings..

Stephanie Perrin:I posted a question in the Q and A box, did it appear?

wolfgang:@Robin: In my eyes the NMI is like a root server. It enables communication and stimulates innovation at the edages. So people can use the platform to innovate and create projects which are needed and find solutions for problems

Delia:it seems that initiative put more attention on designing a socalled better platform rather than effectiveness.

Rick Lane:So we will have to monitor and participate in yet another organization? More fun...

Andrea:great analogy @wolfgang

smith:3 more meetings per year

CHINA IGR-ZHU:name a potential project

Ian Peter:glad to see this is outside icann which needs to have a narrow focus

Robin Gross:Stephanie, several of my questions haven't gone through either.

Jeremy Malcolm:Ian will you write to CS today to reopen discussion of CSCG role in nominating to the Coordinating Council?

Stephanie Perrin:are the questions showing in the box on the left? I only see the one I asked, no response. Is noone asking questions?

Marilia Maciel:@wolfgang, @andrea, yes that is a good interpretation, but it is one possible way to interpret what we hear. I dont see this clear at this stage.

c.a.:@robin gross send them through the Q&A window.

Kieren McCarthy:@Stephanie - I have asked four questions. None of them asked so far

Rahul Sharma:My questions are answered :)

Robin Gross:how are costs being borne for this project?

c.a.:Kieren, did you post them in the Q&A window?

William Drake:I have been waiting with my hand up

Jorge da Silva:For example, will NetMundial take outcome documents from IGF and then seeks to extend the debate?

Kieren McCarthy:yes posted in window Q&A window

Ian Peter:looks like we are wrapping up....

Robin Gross:"The mother of all bottom up" - Priceless

CHINA IGR-ZHU:Wrapping-Up?

Sonigitu Ekpe:I will join you all.

Sivasubramanian M:Good that what ICANN started is making progress and expanding Delia:i dont think it is possible to clarify which issues they are unique for Netmundial initiative to solve.

Stephanie Perrin:@Kieran, how odd, I dont see your questions and I guess you did not see mine, Stephanie Perrin:Stephanie Perrin: The WEF already has a program on the Internet and the new infomation economy. Is the WEF proposing to bring this work to this platform? If so, what "concrete" solutions does it envisage bringing to the platform?

Andrea:@marilia I think is up to us (in the largest sense) to make it an unprecedented tool for action in IG after 10+ years of dialogue

Sonigitu Ekpe:Thank you and bye.

Kieren McCarthy:DOA
